

Figure 1 is a grayscale astronomical image showing a field of stars and galaxies. The image is centered on the primary source, which is marked by a red circle and a crosshair. The axes are labeled 'Arc Seconds' and range from -30 to 30. In the upper right corner, there is a small inset showing a zoomed-in view of the primary source, with labels 'N' and 'E' indicating North and East directions.

May 2 01:33:47 2019